SPEAKERS

David Starling is married to Nicole and has three children. Until recently he was pastor at Petersham Baptist church, and now lectures in Theology and New Testament at Morling College. He is doing his best to impart to his children a love of God's good gifts like football, cricket, reading and music, and a conviction that God himself is more precious than any of them.

Mike Raiter came to Australia from Liverpool at ten years-of-age. He graduated as a Secondary Teacher, then taught at a Mission School in Pakistan. He then trained at Moore College and returned to Pakistan as a Theological educator. He is presently the Principal of the Bible College of Victoria. Mike is married to Sarah and has four children.

John Anderson is former leader of the National Party and Deputy Prime Minister of Australia. All sides of politics have acknowledged his honesty and integrity, which reflect an uncompromising commitment to the Christian faith. John is married to Julia, and has four children
