SPEAKERS

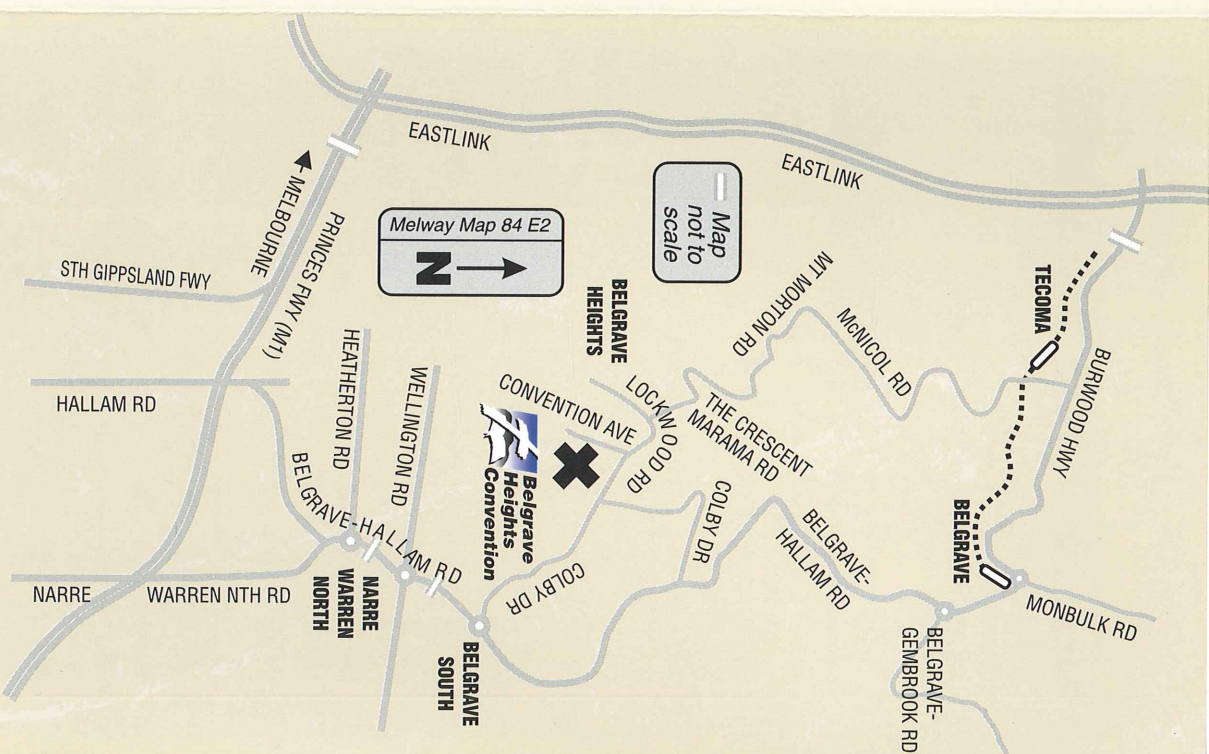

REV JOHN DICKSON

John Dickson began his career as a singer/songwriter, touring and recording for seven years, playing in universities, pubs, schools and prisons. He moved from this into a distinguished academic career and now lectures in Ancient History and The Life of Jesus at Macquarie University. He has recently become Director of the Centre for Public Christianity. John lost his own father in a plane crash when he was nine. He freely admits that this has shaped his passion for life's big questions and still motivates him to be the best father and husband he can be to his wife and three children.

BISHOP AL STEWART

Al Stewart became a Christian at Uni, worked in marketing, then was called into full time Gospel ministry 25 years ago. He served churches in Sydney's east and west before working in Youthworks. From 2002-7 he had a vital youth ministry. He is currently Bishop of Wollongong and Chairman of Katoomba Christian Conventions. Al is married to Kathy, and they have three daughters and one son. For relaxation, Al enjoys running on the beach with Musket, his Staffordshire terrier.
