Dominic Steele
Dominic lives in the late drinking inner west of Sydney. But despite that, is a real man. He's one of Australia's leading evangelists and is the author of the course Introducing God. Dominic has been a Christian for 22 years and married to Cathie for sixteen years. They have three children. He leads the Christians in the Media network ministry and is senior pastor of Village Church, Annandale.

Ray Galea
Ray is married to Sandy and has three children. He is the senior minister of St. Albans Roothill Anglican – with a special brief to work cross-culturally among second generation Mediterranean and Middle Eastern people in the west of Sydney. Prior to going to Moore College he worked as a Social Worker in Wollongong for three years. He specialises in Marriage and Family Counselling. Ray loves reading, eating Middle Eastern food, listening to Bob Dylan and watching films set in New York.

Leigh Hatcher
Leigh has enjoyed an outstanding journalistic career in both radio and television. He has filled senior positions from Canberra to London and currently fronts Sky News in Sydney with Sharyn McKenzie. After a battle with Chronic Fatigue Syndrome, he wrote his first book, I'm Not Crazy, I'm Just a Little Unwell. He has studied at Moore College and currently lectures in Preaching at SMBC. Leigh is married to Meredith, and they have four children and one grandchild. Leigh's hobbies include ocean swimming and surfing.

THE GOSPEL

TELL IT

Belgrave Heights
Men's Convention
21-22 May 2010

Our aim has always been to have the very best of men's speakers to encourage and challenge us from the Word.

For 2010 we have added the dimension of assisting men to share the Good News. This is the explanation for the theme this year, and we have put together a team of speakers superbly qualified to address these issues.

We trust, this year, that you will be encouraged to Know, Live, and Tell the Gospel."
